

Does your child have ADHD or Autism?

Participate in Research on Brain Development

The purpose of this study is to learn about differences in the brain across children with ADHD or Autism.

Who can participate?

- Children ages 9-10 with parent/guardian participation
- Children with ADHD
- Children with Autism (Autism, Aspergers, High Functioning Autism and PDD-NOS)

What does this study include?

- 6 study visits
- MRI scans, questionnaires, interviews and cognitive tasks
- Optional: DNA saliva sample

Compensation*

- Up to approximately $570 in Gift Cards.

compensation may vary based on study visits completed

Scan this code to learn more about this study

More information :

Contact Forrest

(314)-273-7975

forrestwhiting@wustl.edu

Principal Investigator:
Nico Dosenbach, MD, PhD

Washington
University in St. Louis
SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA